

OXYGEN FACIAL THERAPY

Oxygen infusion plumps facial features, restores volume and firmness

OXYGEN FACIAL THERAPY

Rejuvenate

This treatment is for those who need a bit of moisturizing in the skin, as well as to take care of any lines and wrinkles that may appear on the face. People with all skin types can benefit from this treatment, and they will also notice firmer and tighter skin after the treatment.

Opulence

This one is for patients that have an uneven skin tone and pigmentation, and, in addition, wish to brighten up their complexion.

Clarity

Helpful for those with moisture issues in their skin, the clarity treatment balances that issue out, as well as aids in any potential acne outbreaks.

Atoxylene

Seen as a non-invasive (needle-free) alternative to a Botox treatment, the atoxylene option is an add-on to the rejuvenation and opulence treatments, and helps to soften up expression lines, as well as to firm them up. It also helps to contour the eyes, plump the lips, and smooth out wrinkles and lines, especially near the mouth and eyes, as well as on the forehead.

- Oxygen facials have a quick recovery time, and the patient can almost immediately apply makeup or lotion to their face, as opposed to a normal facial, where they must wait several hours.
- As opposed to other types of skin treatments, such as microdermabrasion, oxygen facials leave no painful side effects, such as itching, stinging, or burning. The procedure itself is quite gentle, and those with sensitive skin, or aversion to needles, are able to undergo this procedure with no problems.
- Some of the benefits of the facial are instantly noticeable, with patients reporting glowing, younger looking skin, and those suffering from acne and other skin issues have reported a clearing up of these issues after a while.
- Regardless of physical benefits, the infusion of oxygen and vitamins to any part of the body is healthy, and they promote cell growth, as well as collagen growth. It also gives skin that's been exposed to pollutants such as tobacco smoke and dirty air a thorough cleanse.